

Adam Weed is an Orlando native and a recent alumnus from University of the Arts in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. During his past years in school he has worked with several artists such as Kim Bears-Bailey, Curt Haworth, Kathryn Thurman, and performed in works including "Planets" by Manfred Fishbeck and a Forsythe Ensemble with excerpts of William Forsythe's "Vile of Parody of Address" set by Douglas Becker. He has also performed in Atlantic City Dance Alliance for their "Winter Sweet" Festival. Also in the following year he performed in Koresh Dance Company's "Come Together" Spring Festival with Evolution Dance Company's excerpts of "Soul Force." Mr. Weed has performed for the Disney Castle show, "Celebrate the Season," and has recently worked for Royal Caribbean performing "City of Dreams," and "West End to Broadway."