

Kelsey Glennon is a classically trained dancer and Actors Equity performer. She grew up in Central Florida studying a variety of disciplines with a strong foundation in ballet from The School of Performing Arts and Central Florida Ballet. She later traveled to intensify her studies with the American Ballet Theater. Kelsey's professional career has offered her the opportunity to perform on stages all over the world including Walt Disney World, Tokyo Disney, Universal Studios, and at sea with Princess Cruises and Holland America Line. She currently freelances as a performer for industrials, corporate events, commercials, and film. She is thrilled to be teaching and educating the next generation of young artists in the art and history of dance.
